2013 Global Health Workshop

WELCOME MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

2013 APRU GLOBAL HEALTH WORKSHOP

Welcome to Zhejiang University!

Zhejiang University is one of the few top-rank research institutions of higher learning in China. It is a center of high-level teaching and research, where renowned academics from China and other countries work together contributing to the economic development and social progress of China and the world. To continually achieve excellence in its core missions of education, research, and social service, Zhejiang University attaches great importance to its exchange and cooperation with international partners.

As a member of APRU, Zhejiang University is honored to host the 8th APRU Global Health Workshop with themes including global burden of disease, cardiovascular disease mortality, health, aging & longevity, climate change, global health education, research ethics education, trade & health and obesity epidemic. The Workshop will render a platform for scholars from around the globe to discuss cutting-edge topics related to public health.

I believe the 8th APRU Global Health Workshop this year will assemble intelligent minds worldwide in the field of public health and achieve novel solutions addressing global challenges. On behalf of Zhejiang University, I welcome all of you to the 8th APRU Global Health Workshop and wish everyone enjoy a good stay in Hangzhou.

Sincerely,

Jianhua Lin
President, Zhejiang University
Hangzhou, China

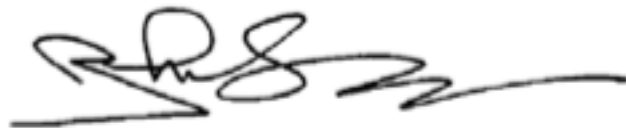

Dear Workshop Participants,

We are pleased to be hosting the 2013 APRU Global Health Workshop at Zhejiang University in the picturesque city of Hangzhou, the capital of China's Zhejiang province.

One of the oldest and most prestigious institutions of higher learning in the country, Zhejiang University is a leader in scientific and technological research both in China and globally.

This year's workshop will explore a range of global health issues that tie us together in our shared Pacific Rim region. Discussion topics will cover the global burden of disease, cardiovascular disease mortality, aging, obesity epidemic, climate change, global health education, research ethics education and trade in the Pacific Rim.

Regards,

Shankuan Zhu, MD, PhD
Qiushi Professor and Executive Associate Dean
Director, Chronic Disease Research Institute
Director, Department of Nutrition and Food Hygiene
Zhejiang University School of Public Health

ASSOCIATION OF PACIFIC RIM UNIVERSITIES

About APRU

HISTORY

The Association of Pacific Rim Universities was established in 1997 with leading universities across the Americas, Asia and Australasia, to contribute to the development of an increasingly integrated Pacific Rim community.

APRU began with 34 charter members with the declaration:

“The objective of this association of chief executive officers of premier universities around the Pacific Rim is to help these institutions become more effective contributors to the development of an increasingly integrated Pacific Rim community.”

The first annual meeting of presidents took place in Los Angeles from June 1 to 3, 1997.

STRATEGIC FRAMEWORK

As the Pacific Rim network of leading research universities, APRU seeks to advance the aspirations of its members and contribute to global society by:

- 1) Shaping Asia-Pacific Higher Education and Research
- 2) Creating Asia-Pacific Global Leaders
- 3) Partnering on Solutions to Asia-Pacific Challenges

AT A GLANCE:

- 45 leading research universities
- Based in 16 economies
- 120,000 faculty members
- 2 million students
- More than US$50 billion total budget
- Located on the dynamic, diverse Pacific Rim

APRU Global Health Program

The APRU Global Health Program aims to leverage the global health education and research of Asia-Pacific universities to address global health issues through interaction with public policy and media.

Since its launch in 2007-08, the program has covered a significant range of topics including emerging public health threats, ageing and chronic diseases, infectious diseases and health security issues. It has recently engaged academics, policy leaders, media specialists and communities on non-communicable diseases and on global health issues on campus.

The program is hosted by the USC Institute for Global Health and managed by Dr. Mellissa Withers, who may be reached at mwithers@usc.edu.

SCHEDULE

FRI., NOVEMBER 1

Field Trip

- 09:30 - 10:20
- Zhejiang University to Fei Lai Feng
- 10:20 - 12:00
- Fei Lai Feng
Fei Lai Feng stands next to Temple of Soul's Retreat (Lingyin Temple) and is a must-see in Hangzhou. There are many legends about the peak's name that we will learn about on our tour.
- 12:00 - 13:00
- Ou Xiang Ju
- 13:00 - 13:40
- Su Di
Su Di was built in the fifth year of Yuanyou Period in the Northern Song Dynasty (1090). Su Shi Dongpo, a well-known poet, built SUDI from dredged silt from West Lake. To commemorate Su Dongpo's achievements in controlling the West Lake, it was named "Su Di."
- 13:40 - 15:00
- Gu Shan
Gu Shan is situated at the northwestern corner of West Lake. It is 38 meters above sea level and covers an area of 300 mu (nearly 50 acres). It is the biggest, and only natural, island in the lake.
- 15:00 - 16:00
- He Fang Street
HE FANG STREET showcases a variety of Chinese crafts, such as hand-blown sugar candy, paper-cutting and hand-made dough figurines. Charming and lively, it is full of art hawkers, candy sculptors, pillow shops, caricaturists, old-fashioned movie players, storytellers, bonsai shops, teahouses, and an array of small eateries.
- 16:00 - 18:00
- He Fang Street to Zhejiang University
